

PERMISSIVE ACCESS

These permissive footpaths and bridleways offer routes through farmland linking with public rights of way and other permissive routes in the area. The routes follow tracks and grass margins around arable farmland where several hedgerows and ponds have been restored to enhance the landscape and benefit wildlife.

This access has been provided under the Department for Environment, Food & Rural Affairs' farm conservation schemes as managed by Natural England, which help farmers and land managers protect and improve the countryside, its wildlife and history. It is permissive access and no new rights of way are being created. Existing rights of way are not affected. Please follow the Countryside Code and observe any other requirements shown above. Do not disturb wildlife, livestock or other visitors and in particular keep dogs under control. This is working farmland so please take care; people using this site do so at their own risk. Access ends on 30th September 2019.
